Biodiversity does not by itself yield overall prosperity. In the end what counts is how you see biodiversity and what you do with it.

The core of Sri Lanka's traditional economic activity has been about sustainable living, sustainable lifestyles. Knowing the trees, their names and uses alone will not deliver a different tomorrow. What is necessary is to understand what needs to be done and how it should be done.